Hickory

UNFINISHED

Hickory offers the bold character of one of North America's hardest domestic hardwoods. Heartwood ranges from tan to reddish brown, while sapwood appears white to cream with fine brown lines. Strong contrast between heartwood and sapwood is common, and overall color variation can be significant.

Its closed, ring-porous grain and moderate definition create a lively surface with natural movement and texture. The look is rugged yet refined, making hickory a strong fit for interiors that want dramatic variation and a distinctly American hardwood presence.

Distinctive Attributes

This character-grade floor welcomes distinct variation in heartwood and sapwood coloration, along with sound knots and naturally occurring wood character. Open knots and open character up to 1/2 in. are fillable, and the grade may include worm holes, checks, streaks, bird pecks, and unrestricted heartwood-sapwood contrast for a boldly organic look.
